1. Introduction

- This tenancy agreement is a legal contract describing the terms and conditions of your tenancy and your rights and responsibilities as a tenant. If there is anything you do not understand please contact your Housing Officer or seek legal advice before you sign this contract.
- This tenancy agreement describes either your secure tenancy under the Housing Act 1985 or your introductory tenancy under the Housing Act 1996. Whichever tenancy you have, it is important for you to know that you have a number of rights and responsibilities.
- It is important you understand that if you break any of the terms or conditions of this contract the council may commence legal proceedings against you. This could ultimately result in the termination of your tenancy and everyone living in your home being evicted.
- The definitions section sets out the meanings of words used in this tenancy agreement.
- Any reference to an Act of Parliament or regulation within this tenancy agreement includes any subsequent amendments to such legislation or regulations.
- Where any term or condition of this tenancy

- If your tenancy started on or after 1 April 2013 then succession rights are limited to those allowed by s.86A(1) of the Housing Act 1985. In general this means that on your death your tenancy may pass to your husband, wife or civil partner (or a person who you lived with as if you were husband and wife or civil partners) if he/she occupied the property as his/her only or principal home at the time of your death. No other family member can succeed to your tenancy.
- In certain circumstances, you have the right to buy your property. You should contact Crawley Borough Council if you want to know more about your right to buy.
- In certain circumstances, you have the right to exchange your tenancy with another tenant.

4. Demoted tenancies

- If you, any member of your household or any visitor/s cause anti-social behaviour the council may apply to the County Court to have your

Joint tenant responsibilities

Each joint tenant is responsible for the rent. The council can recover all arrears owed to it from any individual joint tenant. This means that even if one joint tenant leaves all tenants continue to be responsible for rent, arrears and tenancy charges.

Difficulty in paying your rent

If you have any difficulty paying your rent you or someone acting on your behalf must inform the council immediately.

If you do not pay your rent, the council may apply to the court for a possession order that could ultimately result in the termination of your tenancy and everyone living in your home being evicted. The council can ask the court that you pay the council's legal costs if it makes an application to the court.

Provision of heating and hot water through a District Heat Network (DHN)

As your home receives heat and power from a DHN you will have to pay towards any heating and hot water you receive and the costs of the system. Your obligations are set out in a separate Heat Supply Agreement between you and us. Although the heat and power your home receives from any DHN is provided under that Heat Supply Agreement and not under the terms of this tenancy agreement, the heat and power your home receives from any DHN and your obligations under the Heat Supply Agreement are fundamental to how heat is provided to your home so those arrangements are part of this tenancy agreement. This means that if you fail to comply with your obligations in the Heat Supply Agreement, we will consider that to be failure to comply with your obligations under this tenancy agreement and may apply to a court to ask you to be evicted from your home. We will charge you the costs of taking you to court. Any Heat Supply Agreement between you and us is attached to this tenancy agreement.

You must pay the charges for the DHN to the company appointed by the council to manage the billing.

(Note: If you do not allow access to your home you could be putting yourself and your neighbours at risk and the council may take legal action to gain access to your home and you may have to pay the costs. You may also be prosecuted for obstruction. The council recommends that you ask for identification of any person seeking to enter your home who claims they are from the Council).
